

Fourth Annual “Mandarin in Schools” Conference

Saturday, November 1, 2014
8:30 AM Check In
9:00 AM – 3:00 PM Conference & Workshops

International Studies Learning Center
5225 Tweedy Blvd., South Gate, CA 90280

Conference topics and speakers will focus on best practices, methodologies and program support.

Morning General Session:

“Teaching in the Target Language: The Key to Linguistic and Cultural Proficiency” presented by Brandon Zaslow, Iman Hashem and Maggie Chen
from the California World Languages Project

Elementary Track Workshop: “Facilitating the Learning of Elementary Students in a Content-Based and Meaningful Context”

Secondary Track Workshop: “Common Core Strategies in Teaching Chinese”

Leadership Track Workshop: “Establishing Parental and Community Partnerships to Support Mandarin Programs”

Keynote Speech:

“Why Learning a Second Language Benefits Students”
presented by L. Ling-chi Wang, Professor Emeritus, UC Berkeley

For more information about the conference, please go to www.mandarininschools.org

Click here to register at no cost – Conference is free!

Complimentary continental breakfast and hot lunch will be served.
Register by Oct. 27.

Questions: email Sonum Dixit at sdixit@mandarininschools.org, or call Clara Chiu at \(213\) 241-0235241-0235)

Sponsors

The Pacific Rim Institute of the Charter College of Education, CSULA
UCLA Confucius Institute

Hosted by the Mandarin in the Schools Committee and the Committee of 100

Please share widely!

Educational Opportunities

学习机会

MANDARIN IN SCHOOLS